PRESS RELEASE

Thursday, March 12, 2020

As it was shared with Cass School District 63 families and staff last night, the District was informed that a Cass Junior High School student's non-Cass 63 sibling was being tested for the Coronavirus/COVID-19. At this time, additional information has not been received.

With health and safety as Cass School District 63's number one goal, it was decided to close the physical facilities of Concord Elementary School and Cass Junior High School for today, Thursday, March 12, which includes all before school or after school activities. School will be in session remotely, as teachers will be implementing the District's E-Learning program today.

Cass 63 students that attend one of the District's partner schools will still be attending school today and transportation service will be provided for these students.

Another formal District 63 communication will be issued this evening in regards to school status for Friday, March 13.

Please fully respect that that Cass School District 63 cannot share any specific personal information. Thank you for your understanding, patience and supporting that health and safety is Cass School District 63's number one goal.
